“We are very pleased to welcome the Fund, advised by IK Investment Partners, as our new majority shareholder. Together we will continue to pursue our strategy of technological innovation, commercial development, and selective acquisitions,” said Didier Soumet, CEO of Bretèche.

Arnaud Thomas, Partner at Equistone Partners Europe, said: “We are proud of our active support for the teams at Bretèche, both to develop original business lines and to pursue its international external growth strategy, particularly with the acquisition last summer of Shick in the field of dosing equipment in the United States.”

“Bretèche possesses all the characteristics we look for in an investment: a leading market position, a proven track record of commercial success, and an experienced management team. We aim to actively support the management team in their strategy of international growth and innovation, while simultaneously pursuing targeted acquisition opportunities,” added Rémi Buttiaux, Partner at IK and advisor to the IK VIII Fund.
